MAN HUNT IN PROGRESS IN THE WILDS OF RUSSELL

Throngs of Men Searching for Dr. J. W. Worth, Slayer of Constable Who Arrested Him.

TALE OF MOUNTAIN JEALOUSY

Physician Kidnaps Fifteen-Year-Old Girl, and Officer Who Serves Warrant Loses Life While En Route to Jail.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Honaker, Va., July 8.—Word came here today of a manhunt that has been on for three days in the wilds of Russell County. Throngs of men are searching for Dr. J. W. Worth, a physician, who shot and killed William Ball, a constable, who had arrested him on a charge of kidnapping Louise Harris, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Warren Harris, a stock raiser, of the Blue Grass section. No trace of the physician has been found, and a camp place he had occupied in a lonely spot in the hills about five miles from the scene of the crime.

The tragedy has stirred the mountainside, and it is feared the physician will be summarily dealt with if he is captured.

It is a tale of mountain jealousy for a love for a child that led to the killing. For some time, it is said, Dr. Worth had been attentive to pretty Louise Harris. Because of her age and the fact that the parents had favored a young farmer as the suitor for their daughter, Dr. Worth, who had been bidden the Harris home. Then, it is asserted, he conceived the plan of kidnapping the girl, and about a week ago he is said to have lured her away from home.

ESCAPES WHILE BACK OF CONSTABLE IS TURNED A warrant was procured for his arrest, and the father offered a reward for the return of the girl. Constable John Honaker arrested the doctor, but the physician was too quick for him, and when he got the drop on him with his revolver, he forced Honaker to turn his back, while he escaped. Then Constable Ball entered into the game of love, lure and jealousy. He found the doctor at his home, and a preliminary hearing was held. The girl was sent back to her parents.

While on the way to Honaker, Ball decided to have some amusement at the expense of his prisoner, and this cost him his life. He forced Dr. Worth to do the tango, the Highland fling and a few other dances, while he held him covered with his revolver. This was the end of the doctor, who was shot by the constable. Not so with the doctor, and he vowed vengeance. When the constable and his prisoner arrived at the home of Henry Atkinson, in the village of Finney, they stopped for a meal. Dr. Worth saw a shotgun standing in the corner of the dining-room. He grabbed it, and with a word of warning, fired at Ball. The load almost decapitated the constable. Dr. Worth then fled to the hills.

AMHERST VOTERS SIGN. Petition for Prohibition Election in Circumstances.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Amherst, Va., July 8.—Rev. L. Hunter Early, county superintendent, on Monday afternoon, at a meeting of the Amherst Citizens Association, presented the names of 706 qualified voters of the county who signed the petition for the State-wide prohibition election this fall. These figures represent nearly half of the total number of qualified voters in the county. For weeks petitions have been in the hands of representative men at every precinct, and an effort has been made to give every voter an opportunity to sign.

Upon information received from various sources, it is understood that the United States government is negotiating to purchase for forest reserve purposes large tracts of timber land in this county. Several representatives of the government have, in the last few weeks, inspected the Pedlar River watershed, belonging to the city of Lynchburg, embracing something like 3,000 acres, and also the Sweet Briar lands in Fallow District.

Good showers continue to fall in and around Amherst nearly every day. Farmers have almost finished plowing tobacco, and on account of the frequent rains, have gotten a good stand. The corn crop is looking well, and have come out considerably and pastures are green again.

SEEKS $40,000 IN DAMAGES. H. B. Hutchison Brings Suit for Alleged Breach of Contract.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Alexandria, Va., July 8.—The taking of testimony in the suit of H. B. Hutchison against the New York and Pennsylvania Company, to recover damages in the sum of $40,000 for alleged breach of contract on some timber land in Prince William County, was begun today before a jury in the United States Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, Judge Edmund Waddill presiding. The complaint alleges that the defendant company failed to fulfill its contract to cut 10,000 cords of wood a year from the land, and, further, to cut at least twelve inches above ground, as provided in contract.

BAPTIST ENCAMPMENT IN FULL WORKING ORDER

Classes Meet at Half-Dozen Different Places—Attendance Represents All Sections of State.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Virginia Beach, Va., July 8.—The Baptist Summer Encampment that commenced here yesterday got into full working order today. A speaker yesterday called the encampment a college, and this name is accurate and descriptive. This morning, from 9 o'clock until noon, classes were meeting at half a dozen different places. The Baptist Church, the new Methodist Church and the high school being among the buildings used as classrooms.

The various teachers were in place, and while the classes will be larger tomorrow, the attendance was good today. Among the teachers are Miss Williams, of Birmingham; Rev. H. H. Houchamp, of Texas; Rev. J. C. C. Dunford, Richmond, and Rev. George Braxton Taylor, of Hollins, Va. This morning the speaker in the auditorium were Rev. O. E. Sams, of Lynchburg; Rev. W. O. Carver, of Louisville, Ky.; and Rev. E. C. Dargan, of Macon, Ga.

At noon came the second popular lecture, by Rev. J. Ross, of Richmond, the pastor of the Fifth Baptist Church, of Philadelphia, who charmed the audience in the auditorium, and made it delightful both to those who have been to Europe and to those who have not. Dr. Rosselle was the lecturer, and his subject was "The King of the World."

The attendance at the encampment is good, practically all parts of the State being represented. People are coming from as far as Bluefield, West Virginia, and Charlottesville, Md., Washington City and North Carolina have good representation. The weather is ideal, and the food is excellent. The encampment goes on until Thursday, July 10.

COMMITTED WITHOUT BOND Mrs. Joe Johnson Charged With Murder of Her Husband.

Raleigh, N. C., July 8.—At the preliminary hearing before Justice R. J. Hooton, Mrs. Joe Johnson was committed to jail, without bond, charged with the murder of her husband, who died driving with him on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Johnson claims that a shot from the roadside killed her husband. The runaway buggy in which she was seated was stopped at a church near Raleigh, and the driver, who was about 100 yards behind the couple when the killing occurred, says he saw no one run from the roadside, despite the fact that the moon was shining.

Throughout the hearing and since her arrest Mrs. Johnson has remained perfectly cool, and her only concern has been for her infant child. She is twenty-two and very pretty. Her husband was twenty-four. The couple are said to have been estranged twice since they were married.

REPORTS PROSPEROUS TIMES. President of Hardware Association Declares Business Is Good.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Raleigh, N. C., July 8.—Otis Greene, of Asheville, president of the North Carolina Association of Hardware Dealers, declared in his annual address to-day that "after talking with many of the members of the association, an mighty glad to truthfully say that every member of the association reports prosperous times. Here in the grandest and best States in the Union, business is good, crops are good and the sound of the hammer and saw on every hand makes sweet music. The greatest wheat and corn crop makes the farmer smile for joy, and we have neither time nor inclination to listen to any other howl."

"We are too busy supplying the farmers, the timber and lumbermen, the carpenters and mechanics with the latest and best implements for their work and factories, with new and improved machinery to run the great sawmills, to have time to listen to any other howl."

All we have to do is to show manufacturers and jobbers our orders with the ready cash, and they are only too glad to give us their extreme prices."

Secretary T. W. Dixon, of Charlotte, presented his annual report, showing progress for the past year. The gain in membership was upwards of thirty members.

SANDERLIN QUILTS FORCE. Man Arrested in Richmond Resigns as Norfolk Policeman.

Norfolk, July 8.—Thomas Sanderlin, member of the Norfolk police force, arrested in Richmond in company with a woman, and charged with the murder of his wife, to-day resigned from the department, and his resignation was accepted by the chief of police. It is said that a reconciliation with his wife is possible.
